** PPP Loan Forgiveness: Small businesses and self-employed apply for a Paycheck Protection Program loan under the CARES Act as an incentive for them to retain employees during the COVID-19 pandemic. A PPP loan may be forgiven, in whole or in part, if certain requirements are met. If your client has employees, their loan forgiveness amount may be reduced as a result of reductions to employee headcount or wages.

*** Payroll Tax Credits & Deferral:

Employee Retention Credit

Certain eligible businesses are allowed to claim a new Employee Retention Credit (ERC). The purpose of this payroll tax measure is to incentivize employers to keep employees on the payroll even though the business is adversely impacted by the new coronavirus. The ERC is taken against qualifying payroll taxes.

Paid Sick and Family Leave Credit

Under the FFRCA, eligible employers are entitled to receive a credit in the full amount of the required sick leave and family leave, plus related health plan expenses and the employer's share of Medicare tax on the leave. The refundable credit is applied against certain employment taxes on wages paid to all employees. Eligible employers can reduce federal employment tax deposits in anticipation of the credit.

Employer's Deferral of Social Security Tax

Under the CARES Act businesses may delay paying the employer portion of the Social Security payroll taxes on wages paid. The deferral applies to deposits and payments of the employer's share of Social Security tax that would otherwise be required to be made during the period beginning on March 27, 2020, and ending Dec. 31, 2020. Any 2020 deferred payroll amounts would be due to the government in two installments: One-half at the end of 2021 and The remaining one-half at the end of 2022.
